Her rich, indulgent chocolates slowly begin to soften the villagers' rigid attitudes, helping them confront fears, heal old wounds, and embrace pleasure and compassion. ■ Monday Movie Matinee with Lunch – “Lincoln”

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 12:30 PM, STEINMAN HALL

This event kicks off our 2026 education focus on Thaddeus Stevens. This historical drama focuses on the final months of President Abraham Lincoln's life as he works tirelessly to pass the Thirteenth Amendment, abolishing slavery in the US. The film highlights Lincoln's political skill, moral conviction, and determination as he navigates fierce opposition, delicate negotiations, and the pressures of a nation divided by civil war. Through powerful performances and thoughtful storytelling, the movie offers an intimate look at leadership, sacrifice, and the struggle to achieve justice during a pivotal moment in American history. Thaddeus Stevens and Abraham Lincoln were connected through their shared goal of ending slavery during the Civil War. Stevens was a radical Republican congressman and key leader in the House of Representatives who worked to secure enough votes to pass the Thirteenth Amendment. He is played by Tommy Lee Jones in the movie.

Library CORNER

Our main library on Founders Campus is a great place to avoid the winter chill. Stop by and read the paper, a magazine, or browse our shelves for something to take back home to read. February's table will feature books related to Black History Month. And if you're in the mood for romance, we've got plenty to offer both in hardback and paperback fiction.

We've recently received a lovely donation of a leather-bound, large print Bible. It's available to borrow and can be found on the lower shelf of the large print section in the main library.

Our new book shelves remain nice and full in both The Woods and Founders Campus locations. In addition to the books we ordered in December, we continue to add donations from your fellow residents. Check these areas frequently as new titles keep coming in! The hard copy catalogs have been recently updated at both locations if you are looking for a specific book.
