Library CORNER

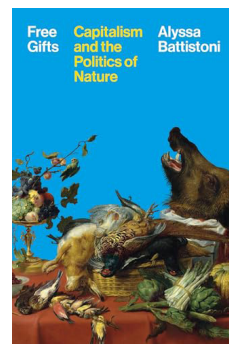

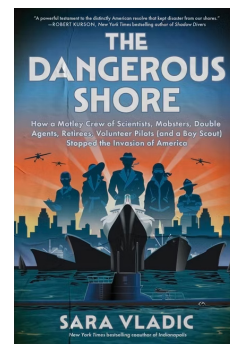

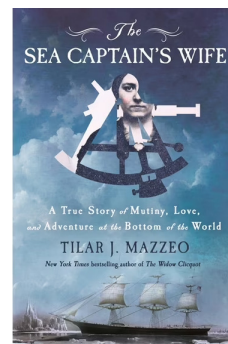

July's Library display table will feature books relating to the 250th Anniversary of the United States of America. Two non-fiction offerings on the table will be The Company by Stephen R. Bown and 1848 Year of Revolution by Mike Rapport.

The Library Committee recently performed an inventory of its collection. The goal was to ensure that the books on the shelves matched up with the titles in our catalog/database as much as possible. This should make it easier for readers to locate books and be certain they can be found on the shelves. While we found things that needed adjusting, one thing was abundantly clear: we have an incredible selection of books! We hope you will stop by and find something to enjoy during the dog days of summer. Oh, and please don't forget to sign out your selections so we can keep our inventory up-to-date! Large Print.

New books selected for Spring 2026 have been purchased and can be found at both the Founders and Woods Libraries. A few new selections to look forward to reading in fiction are:

- The Bookclub for Troublesome Women by Marie Bostwick
- Judge Stone by James Patterson and Viola Davis
- The Widow by John Grisham

In non-fiction we have added:

- The Sea Captain's Wife by Tilar J. Mazzeo
- The Dangerous Shore by Sara Vladic
- Capitalism and the Politics of Nature by Alyssa Battistoni

Also, check out new additions in Large Print.
